Self-introduction

“I have been designing tours and guiding English-speaking overseas guests for the past six years both within and outside the rural Okayama area. Authenticity, connection and spontaneity characterise my tours. I believe in creating travel experiences that deeply touch and benefit all parties involved. The artisans in the countryside are gems. Their stories, together with their openness, sincerity and directness, touch your very being. I look forward to seeing you absorbed in each craftsman’s story and returning home inspired and uplifted and wanting to come back for more.”
Hiromi Charles (Licensed tour guide No.EN00117)

Profile:
 Returned to Okayama in 2009 after having lived abroad for 18 years studying and working as a school teacher. She has been leading tours for overseas travellers since 2014.
 Passionate about traditional Japanese arts and crafts. Enjoys cooking, hiking and watching her children play baseball. Originally from Tsuyama City, now lives in Nishiawakura Village with her French husband and two sons.
